Beloit, Wis, Nov. 3, 1909.

Secretary of the Board of Trade: Dear Sir—Our Curtiss aeroplane can be rented for exhibition purposes, and arrangements are now being made for the coming winter. There is nothing elies in the world that will pull the crowds just at present as an aeroplane will. Ours has been on exhibition at Madison Square Garden, New York, at St. Louis, Chicago, and is a present here in Beloit for experimental flights. It is not at all necessary to do any expensive advertising, for if you merely arrange for a suitable place for to show, it, your local dailles will give you sill the publicity required, excepting perhaps a few posters for out of town.

The vote of the adjoining town of Charlestown has been officially counted by the state returning board and declares that the candidates on the prohibition and independent ticket were elected, but by reduced pluralities. The votes were very close and considerable interest was manifested in the counting. According to the town warden's count, last Tuesday. Milton H. Duckworth, the prohibition and independent candidate for senator, defeated George W. Hoxle, republican, who was candidate for re-election, by 11 votes. The contest for representative was even closer, Orrin Arnold, prohibition and independent, winning over Church, republican, by 9 votes.

aton, Duckworth 151, and Ho. 145, a plurality of 6 for Duckworth; for representative, Arnold 147, Church 143, a plurality for Arnold of 4 votes.

This is Senator Hoxie's first defeat, and the yearon, but escaped injury. The horse was held by the head to the ground for some time, until the arrival of linemen, who removed the live wires which were close to the horse. It remains the properties of the horse in the political properties which were close to the horse. This is Senator Hoxie's first defeat, although he has been in the political limelight as a candidate for office for ten years. The cause of the contest is declared to be the fight of the citizens of that town for law enforcement. Dr. Duckworth being the candidate of that wing of the republican party. So strong was this issue that the town changed from license to nolicense by a surprising majority, the vote standing for license 98 and 176 day afternoon. Marshall had a shovel license by a surprising majority, the vote standing for license 98 and 176 against, or a majority of 78, as against small majority for license a year a small inajority for license a year ago.

The town of Richmond also furnished a surprise by electing John W. Collins senator and William D. Tucker representative, both democrats the former by a plurality and the latter by 19. Mr. Collins ran against Charles J. Greene, an old warborse of the republican party, who has served as town treasurer, and superintendent of schools for more than twenty-five.
